The Law Enforcement Torch Run For Special Olympics

The Torch Run is an international series of torch relays run by law enforcement officers that lead up to Special Olympics Games. Over 97,000 law enforcement officers have carried the "Flame of Hope," raising awareness and funds for Special Olympics. The flame symbolizes courage and celebration of diversity uniting communities around the globe.

The Law Enforcement Torch Run (LETR) is the Special Olympics movement's largest grassroots fundraiser and public awareness vehicle in the world. Law enforcement volunteers around the world have raised $675 million since the inception of the LETR in 1981.

In Alabama, hundreds of volunteer law enforcement officers, corrections, and corporate security partners annually raise money and awareness for Special Olympics Alabama. The Alabama Torch Run helps support over 14,000 athletes who participate at the local, state, and international level. Seven Alabama athletes participated in the 2015 World Special Olympic Games in Los Angeles. All seven earned gold medals in their events, Unified Sailing and Unified Volleyball.

The Torch Run is more than just a run and encompasses a variety of fundraising vehicles such as t-shirt and merchandise sales, special events that include polar bear plunges, tip-a-cop and a host of other events. LETR is changing the future for people with intellectual disabilities. Through the LETR and Special Olympics partnership, we are lighting the way for acceptance and inclusion.

Built in the USA!

Welcome to Kia Motors Manufacturing Georgia

Better yet, welcome to the Kia family. If you visit this part of Georgia, you'll quickly realize that there's a lot more than great cars being built here. What's sprung up over the past few years is a rebirth of sorts. Thanks to the vision and can-do attitude of folks here in West Point, Georgia, a community is flourishing and a classic American success story is in the making.

Built in the U.S.A.

Being Here Makes Us Better. When we decided to begin manufacturing in the United States, we were confident of success. There's a growing demand for Kia cars and CUVs, and we wanted to better serve that need, but you have to do more than that to succeed. You need to surround yourself with quality people. Like the folks at our Georgia facility.

We believe we're building more than great cars in the U.S.—because we are. Kia Motors Manufacturing Georgia continues to be a significant growth enabler for the West Point community and the Kia brand. The plant operates three shifts and is responsible for the creation of more than 15,000 jobs (plant and suppliers). More than 40 percent of Kia's vehicles, the Optima and Sorento, are built in West Point.

Not only are we producing some of the most technologically advanced vehicles around, but we're doing it the Kia Way—with our "one-system/one-team" approach that's built on trust, mutual respect, and open communication among all team members.

We're creating something truly special in West Point. Because of our continued commitment to developing the most efficient, environmentally-sustainable, and sophisticated manufacturing facility in the country, we've reached the production of our two millionth vehicle in the U.S. And we're just getting started. We're in it for the long haul. That means we're dedicated not only to taking care of the Kia family, but also to looking after the environment. After all, it's everyone's home.

Navigating the way to a better future. Kia is one of the fastest growing car companies in the U.S., and as sales have grown, so has our role as a responsible corporate citizen. We're continually increasing our efforts to positively impact the communities we're in. In fact, one of our company's core values is Globality. This means we're always working to enhance the quality of life for people everywhere—to strive for a safe, diverse, and prosperous world.

Supporting schools across America. At the heart of Kia's community partnerships is our dedication to youth empowerment and education. Kia is proud to partner with DonorsChoose.org—a revolutionary charity program that makes it easy to give back to public schools across America. What's really special about this program is that teachers ask for specific items so donors can choose the projects that inspire them the most. DonorsChoose.org has already raised nearly $193 million for public schools nationwide, and we want to drive this number even higher. In just two years, Kia's "Double Your Impact" donation matching program raised the company's total impact to $5 million, supporting nearly 500k students across the country. Because children, like cars, need preparation for a long, prosperous journey.

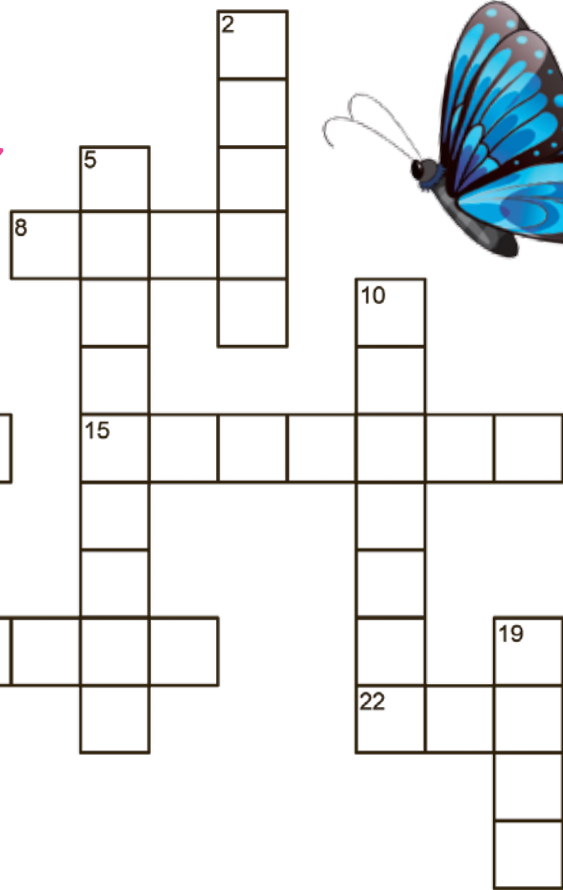

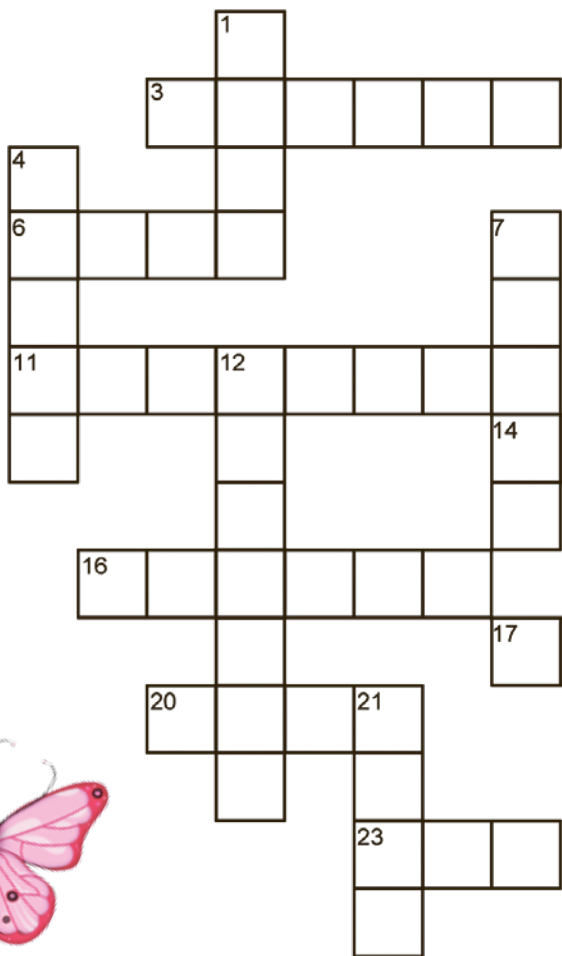

The Sorento and Optima GDI (EX, SX, SXL and certain LX trims only) are assembled in the United States from U.S. and globally-sourced parts. Warranty is a limited powertrain warranty. For details see retailer or go to kia.com

END PLASTIC POLLUTION

From poisoning and injuring marine life to disrupting human hormones, from littering our beaches and landscapes to clogging our waste streams and landfills, the exponential growth of plastics is now threatening the survival of our planet. In response, Earth Day 2018 will focus on fundamentally changing human attitude and behavior about plastics and catalyzing a significant reduction in plastic pollution. Goals include ending single-use plastics, promoting alternatives to fossil fuel-based materials, promoting 100 percent recycling of plastics, corporate and government accountability and changing human behavior concerning plastics.

More than one billion people in 192 countries now participate in Earth Day activities each year, making it the largest civic-focused day of action in the world. It's impossible to avoid plastic entirely, but there are so many effective ways to limit your exposure.

Take personal responsibility to End Plastic Pollution. For more information, visit: earthday.org.

"Chess Pie or Just Pie?"

The origin of the name Chess Pie is unknown but several theories have been suggested. Most common are the mispronunciation of "cheese pie" similar in the texture to the British cheesecakes and lemon curd. Also the mispronunciation of "it's just pie" or "it's jes' pie". The term may also have originated from a piece of furniture used prior to home refrigeration called a "pie chest" in which pies were stored. Common types of chess pie are buttermilk, coconut, chocolate, lemon and nut. Here is a recipe that got great reviews. Let me know if it's your favorite!

INGREDIENTS

- ½ c (1 stick) butter, melted
- 1 ¾ c sugar
- 3 tbsp all-purpose flour
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 1 c buttermilk
- 1 tsp vanilla extract
- ½ tsp nutmeg
- ¼ tsp salt
- 2 tbsp lemon juice and zest from one medium lemon
- 1 unbaked 9 inch deep dish pie crust

DIRECTIONS

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Prepare crust. Beat or whisk the eggs in a medium bowl. In large bowl, combine melted butter (not hot), sugar, flour, eggs, buttermilk, vanilla, nutmeg, salt, lemon juice and zest. Mix on LOW until smooth. Pour into prepared pie crust. Bake for 50-60 mins until golden brown-toothpick test-clean. Cool. Serve or refrigerate over several hours then serve.

No Gym. No Problem.

I invite you to take this 30 day challenge with me!

Let's commit to 10 pushups each day. You can split them up throughout the day if needed. Make sure you maintain good form. Keep elbows close to your side. Keep your ribs in as you bend your elbows at 90 degrees. Lower your shoulders in line with your elbows. Keep your gaze forward and your neck in alignment with your spine. In no time you will see a noticeable difference in upper body strength and flatter abdominal muscles. Add more pushups as these become easier.

Let's commit to planks for 2 minutes. Build up slowly to 2 minutes if you have not tried these before in increments of 30-40 second increases. Notice all core muscles are engaged which will build strength that supports your body weight for everyday function such as improved balance and coordination. Keeping nice form begins with straight arms or another version with bent arms using the forearms on the ground and hands flat on the ground. Push up with straight legs, toes curled down keeping buttocks in alignment with the spine. Take breaks if needed by bending your knees to the ground. This will prevent back strains.

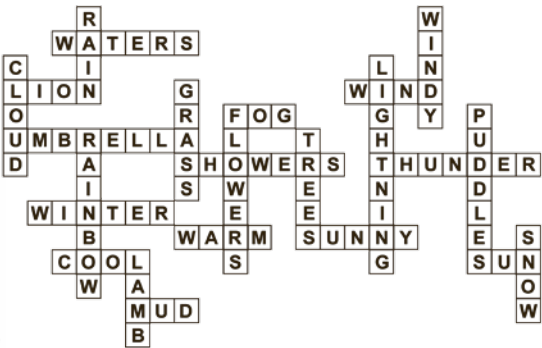

One more exercise for this month's challenge is lunges. Building functional large muscle groups will allow you to use thigh muscles when bending at your knees instead of bending at the waist and straining back muscles. Bend the left knee forward not past your foot to prevent knee injuries from occurring. Make sure your legs are far enough apart to make this an effective exercise. Build up to 10-15 repetitions on each leg then switch. Do at least 3 repetitions of each side alternating after each 10-15 repetitions. Do not lean your torso forward keep your core in line with your hips and sink your weight straight down. Remember to keep good form to produce effective muscle building.

Depending on your starting point, you can adapt the plan to meet your current fitness level and work it into your busy schedule. You may check with your family doctor before starting any fitness challenge. Stay consistent and remember to slowly add repetitions as you feel progress happening. As you strengthen these core and functional muscles you will see improvement with strength, balance and coordination.

In Good Health, Connie
